

Shorewood Hills Violence Alert

Cove janitor Paul Vaccaro is a violent biker thug who violently attacked Cove resident Sara Matthews because she refused to be his girlfriend so he could live at the Cove. He saw her unloading her car in the garage and then stopped an elevator and placed a ladder flat on the floor of the elevator hoping she would trip over it. She walked into the open elevator with groceries and tripped over the ladder dropping everything. He then stood over her as she struggled to get up and did not apologize or help her up.

Certain members of the Cove Unit Owner's Association Board of Directors have put their emotional friendship with Paul over resident safety and believe he has the right to attack and sexually harass residents who refuse to let him live in their unit. If Paul is not immediately terminated for attacking Sara Matthews and sexually harassing Taylor Lee and threatening him with sexual violence this flyer will be taken to every house in Shorewood Hills so they can learn about the presence of this extremely violent individual and his enablers/protectors on the board.
